How do you define peace?

5 Steps

1) Allow Change. Everything is always changing. Discuss one positive change that has happened in your life?
   ________________________________
   ________________________________

2) Walk away from negative relationships. What do you look for in a positive relationship?
   ________________________________
   ________________________________

3) Define your future goals and how to get there. What are you working toward in life?
   ________________________________
   ________________________________

4) Stop measuring your success by material items. What non-material items are you grateful for?
   ________________________________
   ________________________________

5) Set limits. It is okay to say no. What do you need to set limits on?
   ________________________________
   ________________________________